

Dear Jack,

I wanted to thank you for giving me such an amazing opportunity of working at Gray Panthers over the summer. On a daily basis, my mind was blown with new experiences and some of the most extraordinary people that I have ever met. The ability to meet and interview so many passionate and exciting people was a unique thing about this internship. You were not wrong in claiming that this internship offers experiences like no other. The things I was able to work on with you and the rest of Gray Panthers were valuable and enjoyable.

The most enjoyable thing I have taken away from this internship is the sense that the rights of older persons must be protected and that this country is doing a poor job at it. This also stretches beyond political boundaries which I learned at the United Nations. My time at the UN allowed me to see how the problems of older persons stretch far and many areas have specific problems relating to the equal rights of older persons.

I hope to stay in touch and can not wait to hear all the incredible things Gray Panthers will accomplish in the future.

Kind Regards,

Quinn Stephenson
